The Department of Communication at Indiana University Northwest is accepting applications for a Tenure Track Assistant or Associate Professor position in Relational Communication and Research Methods.

Qualifications: Ph.D. or ABD with terminal degree completion by August 2012 in Speech Communication, or a closely related field required. Proof of successful teaching experience and evidence of scholarly potential are necessary. The successful candidate must be able to teach Advanced Interpersonal, Research Methods in Communication, as well as introductory Public Speaking and Interpersonal Communication for undergraduate and graduate students. Public Relations and New Media experiences are desired. Student-centered teaching, demonstrated research scholarship potential, departmental service, engaged citizenship, and collegiality expected.

The Department of Communication offers a Master of Liberal Studies concentration in Communication, a Baccalaureate in Communication, as well as an Interdepartmental Major in Afro-American Studies and Communication. Course offerings include Speech Communication, Mass Communication, Journalism, and Telecommunications.

Rank, salary, and fringe benefits are competitive and commensurate with experience and academic qualifications. Application documents must be sent as email PDF Document attachments and in U.S. mail hard copies. Please forward: letter of application, current vita, three letters of recommendation, unofficial transcripts, and student evaluations of teaching to:

Dr. Dorothy Ige, Chair
Department of Communication
Indiana University Northwest
3400 Broadway
Gary, IN 46408
Phone: 219-980-6781
dige@iun.edu

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2012 and continue until the position is filled. Information about the campus and the department may be found at www.iun.edu

One of eight comprehensive universities in the Indiana University system, IU Northwest is located in metropolitan Northwest Indiana, approximately 30 miles southeast of Chicago and 10 miles from the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore. The campus has a diverse population of 6,000 students and offers Associate, Baccalaureate, and Master degrees in a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs in the arts and sciences, business and economics, education, nursing and health professions, public and environmental health, and social work.

IU Northwest is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, committed to achieving excellence through diversity. The university actively encourages applications from women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and members of underrepresented groups.