Indiana University Northwest invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track, 10-month academic position as an Assistant or junior-level Associate Professor of Economics. The successful candidate will be responsible for a 9-hour teaching load in principles of economics, economic history and statistics at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. A productive program of research is expected, along with active involvement in service functions. The position is available in August 2012. Salary and benefits are competitive.

Minimum Qualifications

An earned doctorate in economics or a related field, from an accredited institution, is required. Additional requirements include:

1. documentation of teaching effectiveness,
2. evidence of a productive program of research resulting in professional conference presentations and proceedings/journal publications, and
3. willingness to participate in school and campus service activities.

Rank will be determined by the level of achievement evidenced in teaching, research, and service.

The IU Northwest School of Business & Economics has 17 full-time faculty and its programs are fully accredited by the AACSB (The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International). It offers the Bachelors of Science degree in Business with concentrations in Business Administration and Financial Information Systems and a Master of Business Administration Degree with both a Weekday and a Weekend MBA for Professionals Option. The Northwest campus of Indiana University has full access to the Indiana University libraries, computer systems, research facilities and all support systems. To tour our School of Business & Economics website visit www.iun.edu/~busnw/.

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, IU Northwest, is located in metropolitan Northwest Indiana, approximately 30 miles southeast of Chicago and 10 miles from the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore. The campus has a diverse student population approaching 6,000 students and offers Associate, Baccalaureate and Master degrees in a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs in arts and sciences, business and economics, education, nursing and health professions; public and environmental affairs, and social work. IU Northwest emphasizes quality teaching, research, and service. As a student-centered campus, IU Northwest is committed to academic excellence characterized by a love of ideas and achievement in learning, discovery, creativity, and engagement.
Indiana University Northwest is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity. The university actively encourages applications from women, minorities, persons with disabilities and members of other underrepresented groups.
Send vita and cover letter to Professor Bala Arshanapalli, Search Committee Chair, School of Business & Economics, Indiana University Northwest, 3400 Broadway, Gary, Indiana 46408 or email to barshana@iun.edu. The formal review of candidates’ materials will begin immediately with applications received by January 31, 2010, receiving full consideration, but review will continue until a successful candidate is identified.