INDIANA UNIVERSITY NORTHWEST
School of Education
Assistant Professor of Educational Psychology/Assessment

The Indiana University Northwest School of Education invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position of Assistant Professor in Educational Psychology/Assessment. Duties include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in educational psychology, assessment/measurement, and other areas; advising students; conducting research; and, providing service to the university, profession, and community. Anticipated starting date is August, 2012. Salary and benefits are competitive.

Required Qualifications:
• Earned doctorate in educational psychology, with expertise in assessment/measurement (Candidates who are ABD and will complete their degree requirements by 1 August 2012 will be considered)
• Demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching
• Experience teaching or working in a professional role in K-12 schools in the United States
• Evidence of an active or emerging research agenda
• Excellent oral and written communication skills
• Experience designing, conducting, and analyzing assessments

Preferred Qualifications:
• Familiarity with program evaluation and NCATE accreditation
• Experience teaching in higher education
• At least two years of teaching or working in a professional role in K-12 schools in the United States
• Familiarity with urban and ethnically-diverse populations
• Commitment to collaborating with Arts and Sciences faculty, as well as K-12 schools
• A sense of humor

To apply, submit via email, electronic copies of letter of intent, vita, transcripts, and three letters of reference with contact information to Dr. Glenn P. Lauzon, Search Committee Chair, glauzon@iun.edu Review of applications will begin immediately; the position will remain open until filled. For more information about the School of Education, refer to the web page at: www.iun.edu/~edu.

One of the eight comprehensive universities in the Indiana University system, IU Northwest is located in metropolitan Northwest Indiana, approximately 30 miles southeast of Chicago and 10 miles from the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore. The campus has a diverse student population of 5,000 and offers Associate, Baccalaureate and Master degrees in a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs in arts and sciences, business and economics, education, nursing and health professions, public and environmental health and social work. IU Northwest emphasizes quality teaching, research and service. As a student-centered campus, IU Northwest is committed to academic excellence characterized by a love of ideas and achievement in learning, discovery, creativity and engagement.

IU Northwest is an equal employment opportunity, affirmative action employer with a commitment to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty and staff by expanding employment opportunities for minorities, women and persons with disabilities. Qualified candidates with an interest in developing and implementing curricula that addresses multi-cultural issues and/or with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations of students are strongly encouraged to apply.