

INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

Library news 1

National Eat Better, Eat Together Month 1

So...What's New? 2

Library Trivia 2

Current Event Magazines/ 2

Political Science Databases 2

Greetings from the Director 3

It's Time for Web News 3

Spotlight On... 3

Library Trivia Answers 4

Library News

Little RedHawk Café Opens Fall Semester

Comforts Catering has opened the Little RedHawk Café, located on the first floor of the Library. Come and enjoy coffee, lattes, sandwiches, bagels and more! Hours are:

Mondays-Thursdays 8:00-5:00

Fridays 8:00-2:00

For more information, please call (219) 980-7750

Welcome Scott Sandberg to the Library

Students enjoying drinks from the café

Scott Sandberg comes to us from Southwest Michigan where he was

Branch Manager of the Edwardsville (MI) Public Library. Scott has degrees from Southwestern Michigan College, Western

Michigan University, and most recently received his Masters in Library and Information Science from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee (which included an internship at IUSB Library). Some of Sandberg's involvements, as Visiting Assistant Librarian will include:

Government Publications; Data Center; Library Instruction; and Grant Seeking.

Stacks Become ADA Compliant

Over the summer, book shelves in the Stacks area, circulating book area on the 2nd and 3rd floor, have been moved to become ADA (American Disability Association) compliant. Previously, the shelves were 24 inches apart and have been moved to 36 inches apart. This allows persons with disabilities to easily move throughout the aisles and gives them browsing options if desired.

National Eat Better, Eat Together Month

October is National Eat Better, Eat Together Month. Research shows that there are many benefits to families coming together at the dinner table. First, eating together at the dinner table opens the door to better communicate with children. Oftentimes, our busy lives hinder us from taking a break to set up the dinner table and have a conversation without disruptions, (TV, phone, work, etc.). Studies show that communication is very important in the development of small children's literacy skills. If you are the parent of a infant or toddler, talk to them about what they're eating, or while you are fixing their plate, describe the actions that you are doing. This alone will build their vocabulary and have an impact later on. For young school-aged children, asking them about their day allows them the opportunity to describe events and helps them learn how to construct a story. Eating together is not only beneficial to small children but to older children and teenagers as well. Teenagers who eat dinner at home one to five days a week tend to do better academically than teenagers who do not eat with their families. In the day of video games, MySpace, Facebook, and text messaging, many teenagers are not rushing home to talk to dear ole mom and dad. Dinner time will give families a set time to communicate when they may normally not have had the time. In addition to communication, other benefits include: saving money; better nutrition; developing meal preparation skills in children; improved grades; and preventing destructive behavior such as illegal drug use and drinking. You can find additional information at:

<http://nutrition.wsu.edu/ebet/index.html>

So...What's New?

With the upcoming presidential elections, the IU Northwest Library Newsletter is featuring books on politics in the United States. Books listed were published between 2005-present.

Berkowitz, Edward D. (2006).

Something happened: a political and cultural overview.

E855 .B37 2006 (2nd floor)

Jefferson, Thomas ; edited by Barbara B. Oberg. Vol. 33, 17 February to 30 April 1801. (2007). The papers of Thomas Jefferson.

E302 .J442 1950a (2nd floor)

Watson, Cynthia Ann. (2008). U.S. national security: a reference handbook.

UA23 .W3697 2008 (3rd floor)

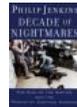

For each entry, only the first author/editor, year, title and call number will be included.

Fradin, Dennis B. (2005). The founders: the 39 stories behind the U.S. Constitution.

E302.5 .F725 2005 (2nd floor)

Jenkins, Philip. (2006). Decade of nightmares: the end of the sixties and the making of eighties

America.

E839 .J46 2006 (2nd floor)

Wilentz, Sean. (2005).

The rise of American democracy: Jefferson to Lincoln.

E302.1 .W55 2005 (2nd floor)

Library Trivia

1. The 1993 movie, Mrs. Doubtfire, is based on what novel? What is the name of the author?
2. What is the title of Toni Morrison's first published novel?
3. What is the best-selling nonfiction book of all time?
4. The novel, 24 Hours by Greg Iles, was turned into what 2002 motion picture?
5. What year was the first modern comic book printed?

1908 1917 1933 1956

Answers on page 4

Political Science Databases

Congressional Quarterly Weekly Report- Readers get in-depth reports on issues looming on the congressional horizon, plus a complete wrap up of the previous week's news, including: the status of bills in play; behind-the-scenes maneuvering; committee and floor activity; and debates and all roll-call votes. CQ Weekly Report is the one resource to make legislative issues easy to understand and will be very helpful in expanding anyone's political knowledge.

Military & Government Collection- Designed to offer current news pertaining to all branches of the military and government, this database offers a thorough collection of periodicals, academic journals, and other content pertinent to the increasing needs of those sites. The Military & Government Collection provides cover-to-cover full text for nearly 300 journals and periodicals and indexing and abstracts for nearly 400 titles.

Current Event Magazines/Newspapers

We are currently living in a period of time that will never be forgotten. This historic presidential election will be recorded and taught throughout our generations and we are fortunate to be able to take part in it. Listed are a few magazine/newspaper titles that will help you get up-to-date with today's current events. These titles will provide you with the information you need to make an informed decision.

Atlantic Monthly*
 Freeman
 Nation*
 New Republic*
 New York Times*
 New Yorker*
 Newsweek*
 Saturday Evening Post*
 Time*
 USA Today
 U.S. News & World Report*
 Washington Post*

This list of periodicals/newspapers is available electronically. 1) Go to <http://www.iun.edu/~lib/elecinfo/> and click on "Electronic Journals" 2) Go to "Browse e-journals by subject" and click on "Please select a subject category" 3) Go to "General" and click search 4) Click on either "Newspapers-General & Popular" or "Periodicals-General & Popular."

* Current issues also available in print. Please ask the Circulation Desk.

Greetings from the Director

Thank you for taking the time to read this most recent issue of the Library Newsletter. As the Fall semester is underway you hopefully have already observed that our Little RedHawk Café has reopened. Our Café is a great place to go in between classes for reading, group study, or to access the internet at our Cybercafé. We hope to soon have a New Books area and a

Diversity Library area in the Café locale so that browsing for both books, current magazines and newspapers can occur over a cup of coffee. Along with the rest of the campus the Library was very sad to lose professor/administrator and friend Robin Hass Birky. Professor Hass Birky used the resources/services of the Library frequently and visited the Café often. In addition to the

to the Café, let me mention some of the many resources/services that the Library offers that make the Library the "place to be" for "exercising your brain" on campus:

- Computer lab/Information Commons access to library databases, internet, email, and application software

(Continued on page 4)

It's Time for Web News

USA.gov-The U.S. Government's Official Web Portal - www.usa.gov

USA.gov is the official website to find U.S. government information and services. Administered by the U.S. General Services Administration's Office of Citizen Services and Communications, this easy-to-search website is free and is designed to give you a centralized place to find information from U.S. local, state, and federal government agency websites. Formerly called FirstGov.gov, USA.gov became its official name in January 2007 because users wanted an easy name to remember. Use this resource to find information on a variety of topics: grants; travel and recreation; health; community; history; culture and much more.

GPO Access- gpoaccess.gov

GPO Access is a service of the U.S. Government Printing Office that provides free electronic access to a wealth of important information products produced by the Federal Government. The information provided on this site is the official, published version and the information retrieved from Access can be used without restriction, unless specifically noted. This free service is funded by the Federal Depository Library Program and has grown out of Public Law 103-40, known as Government Printing Office Electronic Information Enhancement Act of 1993.

Spotlight On...

Biography Resource Center

<http://www.iun.edu/~lib/databases/>

The Biography Resource Center (BioRC) is a comprehensive database of biographical information on over 340,000 people from throughout history, around the world, and across all disciplines and subject areas. BioRC is designed to provide quick and easy access to an array of information. Researchers needing a brief summary or description of personal information on a particular individual will find that there are thousands of concise entries available. Magazine and newspaper articles bring coverage of the subject's up-to-date information and broaden the view of his or her place in history, society, in a particular field of endeavor, or the news. Users who need to continue their search for information beyond what is available in BioRC will conveniently find web links for additional information. With frequent updates, BioRC will assist users in gaining the biographical information they need for their inquiries.

Indiana University Northwest Library

Calumet Regional Archives: 980-6628
 Circulation Desk: 980-6585
 Reference Help Desk: 980-6582
 Library Director: 980-6946
 Library Instruction: 980-6625
 Newsletter Editor: 980-6547
 Systems Services (Interlibrary Loan): 980-6933
 Technical Services: 980-6521

IU Northwest Library...Your Question Deserves an Answer

Library Trivia Answers

1. Alias Madame Doubtfire (1987) / Anne Fine
2. Bluest Eye (1970)
3. Bible. The Bible is the best-selling nonfiction book of all time. Since 1815, more than 2.5 billion copies have been sold worldwide. It has been translated into more than 2,200 languages and dialects. <http://www.factmonster.com/ipka/A0932506.html>
4. Trapped (2002)
5. 1933. Publishers at Eastern Color Press, looking for a way to make better use of their printing equipment which frequently sat idle between jobs, came up with the idea of printing an 8-page comic section that could be folded down from the large broadsheet to a smaller 9 inch by 1 inch format. The result was the first modern comic book. Containing reprints of newspaper comic strips, this experimental comic book titled "Funnies on Parade" was given away for free. It proved so popular, however, that the following year, Eastern published "famous Funnies" and took the bold step of selling the comic for ten cents through chain stores. The enterprise was a smashing success and Eastern began churning out numerous reprints on a monthly basis. Other publishers, eager to get in on the profits, soon jumped on the bandwagon, and the comic book industry was born! http://www.usefultrivia.com/comic_book_trivia/comic_book_trivia_007a.html

The IU Northwest Library houses a collection of over 250,000 books and periodical volumes and 250,000 government publications. Special purpose areas include: the Calumet Regional Archives; the Northwest Indiana Center for Data and Analysis; and the Lake County Central Law Library. The IU Northwest Library can also access 7 million bound volumes and over 26 million other materials in the Indiana University Libraries' system. Books and journal articles held by Bloomington, Indianapolis and other regional campuses can be easily obtained for IU Northwest students and faculty through the System Ser-

(Continued from page 3)

- printing, downloading, and photocopying
- books/E-books, course readings, (E-) magazines/journals/newspapers, instructional videos, and interlibrary borrowing
- Quite Study zone (3rd floor), Group Study areas (1st and 2nd floor), the new Rev. Dr. Robert Lowery Commemorative Study Area (2nd floor), ADA accessible stack areas, and laptop wireless access to resources
- one-on-one Reference Help Desk assistance and library instruction
- and specialized information services pertaining to government/legal info., data/demographics, geographic/mapping (GIS), grant seeking, and local history (Archives).

Please plan to visit the Library often this semester and give us your feedback about our services.

Tim Sutherland, Director of Library Services