

- Sororate affine consanguine Levirate endogamy patrilineal exogamy Polygamy polyandry polygyny group marriage monogamy

- _____ One man married to two or more women
 _____ One woman married to two or more men _____ any case of multiple marriages _____ marrying within a group _____ two or more men all married to the same two or more women _____ custom of a married man also marrying his brother's widow _____ a relative by marriage _____ marrying outside a group _____ a relative with an ancestor in common to ego _____ if wife dies, her family provides a replacement _____ a marriage of one man and one woman, at least at any one time _____ general term for your relatives on your father's side

4. Below is the kinship chart of Tom, an American, designated by the square.

- A. Put a letter G in the people Tom would call "grandmother"
 B. Put a letter U in the people Tom would call "Uncle"
 C. Draw in a husband and a son for Tom's mother's brother's daughter
 D. Put an X in each of Tom's cross cousins, and a // in each of her parallel cousins

7. Which is NOT a frequently found custom that functions to reduce conflict among a man's co-wives?

- A. Marry sisters B. Wives are ranked in order of marriage
 C. Separate housing for each wife D. Share the kitchen and bedroom

8. Japan has a very low divorce rate; this can be explained by the fact that:

- A. Couples marry based on love and long courtship B. Wives are independently wealthy C. Couples have low expectations about marriage D. Couples are very compatible and agreeing

9. Which is the only type of society in which kinship is not important?

- A. Tribes B. Pastoralism C. Horticulture D. Chiefdom E. Industrialized state

10. Learning the kinship terminology can help to understand the social relationships within a society; if Ego calls two different men by the term "Father" then the two fathers:

- A. Have the same status and role relative to Ego B. Are both the same age
 C. Have the same number of cattle D. Are a gay couple
 E. His mother is in a polyandrous marriage

PRINT NAME _____

Bonus Question: What do Indian parents look for when arranging a marriage for their daughter?

ON A CLAIRE DAY (Cathy is on vacation until Feb. 11. Please enjoy this strip in its absence.)

