NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

Effective Date: SEPTEMBER 2018

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please read it carefully.

OUR PLEDGE REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION:

Indiana University Northwest Campus Health and Wellness Center (IUN-CHWC) is required by law to maintain the privacy of your protected health information and to provide you with notice of its legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your protected health information.

This Notice of Privacy Practice will serve as a joint notice to provide you with information of how we might use your medical information to care for you as a patient in one or more of the following clinics operating within IUN-CHWC: Medical Clinic (Primary Care), Clinical Laboratory, Immunizations, Health & Wellness Education, as well as those departments supporting the provision of health care services.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU:

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose medical information. On a separate form, you will be required to sign to indicate your consent before we may use or disclose protected health information for the following categories. For each category of uses or disclosures, we will explain what we mean and try to give some examples. This list of examples is not 100% inclusive. Therefore, not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

For Treatment:

- We may use your medical information to provide you with treatment or services.
- We may disclose your medical information to doctors, nurses, pharmacists, technicians, professional students, or other IUN-CHWC health care providers and support personnel who are involved in taking care of you.
- For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. Different departments may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the different things you need. We also may disclose medical information about you to people outside IUN-CHWC who may be involved in your medical care after you leave.

For Payment:

- We may use and disclose your medical information to bill and/or collect payment for treatment and services provided to you.
- For example, we may give your health information to your third party payer about a treatment you received so they will pay us or reimburse you.

For Health Care Operations:

- We may use and disclose medical information about you for our business operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run IUN-CHWC and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care.
- For example, we may use medical information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate our performance for quality improvement purposes.
- We may combine medical information about many patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective.
- We may disclose information to doctors, nurses, pharmacists, counselors, technicians, professional students, and other IUN-CHWC health care providers and support personnel for review and learning purposes.
- We may combine the medical information we have with medical information from other college health centers to compare how we are doing and see where we can make improvements in the care and services we offer.
- We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are.

Treatment Alternatives. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that you may be of interest to you. For example, this may include specific brand name or over the counter pharmaceuticals.

Health-Related Benefits and Services. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about health-related benefits or services. For example, this may inform you of a new wellness or health education program that we offer that might be of benefit to you.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care. Upon receiving your authorization, we may release medical information about you to a family member or friend who is involved in your medical care or payment of your medical care. Even though your parents may be paying for your medical care, IUN-CHWC will not release any of your confidential medical information to them without your written authorization.

Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for research purposes.

- For example, a research project may involve investigating whether or not certain blood tests are effective in detecting specific diseases. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process, but we may, however, disclose medical information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project, for example, to help them look for patients with specific medical needs.

THE FOLLOWING USES AND DISCLOSURES ARE REQUIRED BY LAW and MAY NOT REQUIRE WRITTEN CONSENT or AUTHORIZATION:

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

Workers' Compensation. We may release medical information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.
