

Indiana University Northwest

Department of Communication

Visiting Lecturer or Assistant Professor in Public Relations with a cultural and business communication focus.

The Department of Communication at Indiana University Northwest is accepting applications for a Visiting Lecturer or Assistant Professor in Public Relations with a cultural and communication focus. The position begins August 2015.

Qualifications: Ph.D., or ABD in Public Relations with a strong orientation toward global culture and business communication. Commensurate experience and/or training considered. Proof of successful teaching experience is necessary. The successful candidate must be able to teach undergraduate courses that relate to the communication major and includes: theory, research, culture or business & professional communication inclusive of the public relations perspective. Student-centered teaching, departmental service, engaged citizenship, and collegiality expected.

Rank, salary, and fringe benefits are competitive and commensurate with experience and academic qualifications. Application documents must be sent as email PDF Document attachments and in U.S. mail hard copies. Please forward letter of application, current vita, three letters of recommendation, unofficial transcripts, and student evaluations of teaching to:

Dr. Bonita D. Neff, Chair
Department of Communication
Indiana University Northwest
3400 Broadway
Gary, IN 46408
Phone: 219-980-6998
bdneff@iun.edu

Review of applications will begin March 11, 2015 and continue until the position is filled. Information about the campus and the department may be found at www.iun.edu.

One of eight comprehensive universities in the Indiana University system, IU Northwest is located in metropolitan Northwest Indiana, approximately 30 miles southeast of Chicago and 10 miles from the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore. The campus has a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs in environmental health and social work.

IU Northwest is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employers, committed to achieving excellence through diversity. The university actively encourages applications from women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and members of underrepresented groups.