

In 15 months I went from entry-level position, to an assistant vice president wealth management officer.

You don't have to go to some big state institution or a big private school to get high quality faculty we have it right here.

In working towards a higher level of education you definitely develop those skills necessary to, you know, for instance sit down and interview and talk with an individual, you know, understand what their needs are, understand their company.

We're Chicago-lands affordable AACSB business school.